

Dear Miss Know-it-all,

I am a 9 year old that does not have many friends. Not only am I alone all the time, but I'm picked on. I have told my teacher, mother and farther, but it won't stop. How do I stop this bullying?

- Bullied Boy

Dear Bullied Boy,

I know school is not all sunshine and rainbows, but things will get better! I'm some times picked on to, so your not alone! What you have to do is follow these steps: if the bully is bullying, tell him/her to stop. If that does not stop it, tell a teacher. If that doesn't help, try telling the principal. By then the bully should have learned his/her lesson, but if it continues, I really don't know what to do! Try talking to Mr. Higgins, or your parents! They'll know what to do!

Things will get better!

your friend,

Miss Know-it-all.
